The Following Books and Publications are available from the SoE

Book Title	Description
Essential Law The 18th Edition is due July 2005	The new edition of the definitive guide to media law is written by two leading experts in this field, Tom Welsh and Walter Greenwood. With the growing complexity of the law faced by busy journalists in their day-to-day work, McNae is an increasingly necessary quick-reference book in newsrooms. It is required reading on journalism courses accredited by the National Council for the Training of Journalists and provides the background legal knowledge required for the award of an NVQ in regional newspaper journalism. £14.95 inc. p and p – new edition due July 2005
Essential English	Harry Evans' brilliant guide to the use of words as tools of communication is back with a new name. This edition was fully revised Crawford Gillan. Indispensable for every journalist and editor and those who want to make the most of the media. It has been endorsed by Alan Rusbridger, Piers Morgan and John Humphrys. £9.50 plus £1.25 p and p
A Press Free and Responsible	Richard Shannon, Professor Emeritus of Modern History at the University of Wales, Swansea has produced a fascinating history of self regulation of the press and the Press Complaints Commission. It is a must read for editors not least because it reminds us of the ethical and marketing reasons for abolishing the discredited Press Council and replacing it with the Editors' Code and the PCC. £17.50 plus £2.95 p and p
Press Gang	Written by Roy Greenslade, media commentator for the Guardian, Press Gang is the definitive history of the modern British press. It tells you everything you always wanted to know but were too afraid of the press to ask. A comprehensive account of the national newspaper industry from 1945 onwards. £20.00 inc. p and p
The Editor's Code Book	The Editors' Codebook*, a 104-page paperback aimed at journalists, students and the public, is believed to be the most comprehensive guidance of its kind available to any major press self-regulation system, worldwide. It brings together the Editors' Code of Practice – which sets out the ethical rules followed by the British press – and the case-law of the independent Press Complaints Commission, which since 1991 has adjudicated upon alleged breaches of the Code. £5.00 inc. p and p Or £7.50 overseas
Code of Practice leaflet	The society's pocket sized Code leaflets, which every journalist should carry at all times. FOC - £10.00 donation (optional)
